Samuel Insull Is Detained By Greek Authorities

EXTRADITION TO BE ASKED UNDER TREATY

New Indictment Believed Sufficient to Return Him

Athens, Greece, Aug. 26—(AP)—Samuel Insull, who is under indictment in Chicago in connection with the collapse of his utilities interests, was detained pending extradition proceedings today and was taken to a nursing home on the recommendation of physicians who examined him.

Several hours after he was detained by the authorities, he was transferred to the Logothetopoulos clinic.

Minister of Justice Taliadourous issued the following statement concerning the detention of Mr. Insull: "The Minister of Foreign Affairs transmitted to us a communication from the American Legation requesting, in accordance with the extradition clause of the Greco-American extradition treaty the preventive detention of the American citizen Samuel Insull with the ultimate object of his extradition."

"The American authorities reserved the right to present within the two months allowed in the treaty all the judiciary documents required to justify extradition."

"We have transmitted this communication to the Public Prosecutor in order that he may act according to Greek law. The President of the Court of Appeal, to whom the dossier was sent, signed an order for Mr. Insull's detention which was duly carried out."

"The detention is preventive pending the arrival of documents to be furnished by the American legation, on the basis of which a decision will be reached as to whether Mr. Insull should be extradited or not."

Forest, representative of the office of the United States Attorney General who was sent here in connection with the extradition attempt said he questioned the right of the Greek government to go into the substance of the case, considering that Greece was entitled only to judge the merits of the application for extradition.

In addition to the counsel he already has, Mr. Insull is expected to engage Pericles Rihall, who is a deputy as well as a lawyer.

INDICTMENT REVEALED

Chicago, Aug. 26—(AP)—The detention of Samuel Insull, former Chicago utilities operator, by authorities in Athens today followed quickly on disclosure by U. S. District Attorney Dwight H. Green of the indictment of Federal officials to make a new attempt to bring him here for trial.

A previous effort on the part of the state of Illinois to compel Insull, and his brother, Martin Insull, now in Canada, to face trials growing out of the collapse of their utility empire, was successfully resisted in Greece by Samuel Insull. The requests for Martin's appearance have been continued from time to time and he is residing at Orillia, Ont.

Green yesterday obtained release of a suppressed indictment returned June 1 against the Insulls and nine associates, including Samuel Insull, Jr., which charged violation of the Federal bankruptcy act, by transfer of assets of the Corporation Securities Company, defunct $150,000,000 Insull investment trust.

The new offense charged, Green asserted, is extraditable both in Greece and Canada, while a mail fraud indictment returned against them last February was regarded as non-extraditable in both countries.

Covering Vagrancy Issued Today For 25 Notorious Gang Leaders

Chicago, Aug. 26—(AP)—A sheet of warrants, renewable every 48 hours to keep them out of reach of legal attacks, was directed today against leading gang chiefs in a new development of Chicago's current war on crime.

Invoking the recently enacted vagrant law under which offenders may be prosecuted on their reputations and sentenced to six months imprisonment, if convicted, the authorities directed officers to bring in 25 of the more notorious hoodlums.

Approval For Federal-Aid Projects In This County Is Announced

Reconstruction Of E. Second Street Is Local Project

Announcement was made by the state Highway Department at Springfield today that approval of the Federal Bureau of Public Works had been given projects for Federal construction under the public works program in 61 Illinois counties, including Lee, Bureau, Carroll, DeKalb, Jo Daviess, LaSalle, Stephenson and Whiteside, in this section of the state. The Lee county project is the reconstruction of Route 2, East Second Street, from Artesian Place to Steele Avenue, in Dixon.

According to announcement by Chief Highway Engineer Lieberman, the department will now submit to the Federal government detailed contract plans and specifications as rapidly as the engineering force can complete them. Bids will be asked and contracts awarded promptly upon approval of the plans and specifications.

On Federal Highways

"The portion of the program submitted by the state which has been approved includes improvement to Federal aid highways such as the closing of gaps, construction of grade separations and bridges," Lieberman said.

"No approval has been obtained, however, for secondary road projects which represented a substantial portion of this program. Improvement to Federal aid highways and their extensions through and around municipalities have also been approved at this time."

"For this reason, there are a number of counties where no projects will be announced at this time due to the fact that all of their allotment is supposed to be made on secondary roads."

State Got $17,750,770

Illinois was granted $17,750,770 for highway construction under the Industrial Recovery Act, to be expended in at least 75 per cent of the counties of the state in proportion to population and the number of unemployed.

Upon recommendations of local officials, the state division of highways recommended projects in all Illinois counties.

Lieberman said that construction would be started soon, creating employment and a market for road building materials and equipment.

Hit And Run Auto Drivers Reported To Dixon Police

Mrs. Iris Blum of Crowley, La., and with her two daughters, who are making a tour of the north and west, were halted in Dixon yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Glessner at the request of the Rochelle police department, who alleged Mrs. Blum's car had struck the car of a Rochelle physician while driving through that city and she had continued without stopping. State Highway Officer Edward Mahan took her back to Rochelle where she settled the damages and resumed her journey.

A. E. Ford of this city reported to the police this morning that a car had struck his truck on First street, badly damaging a fender and that the driver continued without stopping. The car bore Illinois license plates of a recent issue and an attempt is being made to ascertain the identity of the owner.

Police of Lombard telephoned the Dixon police station at midnight last night requesting that the driver of a Clarence, Iowa, truck be halted as he drove west through this city. The truck was reported to have struck a car driven by a woman early in the evening and to have failed to stop to ascertain the amount of damage. The local police watched the highways but were unable to locate the careless driver.

Among those named in warrants issued by Municipal Judge Thomas A. Greene were Murray Humphreys, reputed successor of Al Capone; Frank Nitti, former syndicate business manager; James Belcastro, "King of the Bombers"; Leo Moscovici of the old Moran gang; and Danny Stanton, southside gunman. Also included were Joseph "Yellow Kid" Weil, notorious confidence man; Fred "The Deacon" Buckmaster, his associate; and Maxie Eisen, fish market racketeer.

WHEAT GROWERS OF COMMUNITY MET FRIDAY EVE

Learn Of Control Plan: Will Meet Again Monday Morn

A meeting on wheat acreage control was held in the Circuit Court room at the court house last evening under the direction of Farm Adviser Yale at which sixty-five farmers from the vicinity of Dixon learned in detail what the federal government is endeavoring to do to stabilize the price of wheat and put wheat prices on a parity with industrial products. He also explained the tremendous surplus of wheat which has accumulated and the reason for this surplus. After the details of the program were given a discussion period was held at which time questions were answered and many individual cases discussed. Approximately thirty-five farmers took out applications to participate in the program and many expressed their willingness to go along with the government in this program and receive the benefits they would derive from so doing.

Meet Again Monday

A second meeting will be held in the supervisor's room of the court house at 9:00 A. M. Monday at which time all those taking out applications will return them with the information they have secured and applications will be completed, with the assistance of those in charge of the work, signed, and made ready for inspection by the local board.

Those wheat growers who were not at Friday's meeting are urged to attend the meeting Monday between 9:00 A. M. and 4:00 P. M. (Continued on Page 2)

Camera Records River Drama at Philadelphia

A rope and slippery oil-barrel between him and death, this was the scene witnessed by hundreds of horrified Philadelphians when Thomas Williams fell into the turbulent Schuylkill river and fought frantically to save himself from the onrushing stream. This picture was taken an instant before Williams reached for the rope—and missed. He tried again but failed. The barrel now out of reach, and too tired to make another effort, Williams threw up his arms and was swept onward to his death. This photo of the tragic drama was made by William F. Springfield of NEA Service and Acme News-pictures.

CRAZED WOMAN WIELDS FATAL BUTCHER KNIFE

Woman Doctor Goes Berserk In Home Of Famous Psychiatrist

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 26—(AP)—A butcher knife, wielded by a woman police said was crazed, brought death to Miss Ann Kiffe, 50-year-old housekeeper in the home of Dr. Anita Muhl, 40, and serious injuries to the doctor.

The alleged assailant, captured by police last night, a half mile from the Muhl home in an exclusive residential neighborhood, was identified by them as Dr. Virginia Wilson, 36, a graduate of Washington University, St. Louis, and until a recent nervous breakdown, a teacher in the summer school of the California College of Medicine at Berkeley.

Dr. Muhl had brought Dr. Wilson home from the psychopathic ward of the county hospital only a few hours before. The woman had been placed there under observation after she allegedly had caused a disturbance at another hospital.

Clad Only in Blanket

Police said Dr. Wilson, a specialist in psychiatry and hygiene, was clad only in a blanket when captured and still carried the knife.

Dixon Chief Gets Editorial Praise In Chicago Paper

The Thursday evening issue of the Chicago Daily News contained an editorial in which Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber of this city was highly praised for his activity in bringing about the capture of a gang of live stock hi-jackers at a Walworth county, Wisconsin, farm. The editorial commended the Dixon chief for his activity in breaking up the practice which has resulted in heavy losses to drivers of stock trucks to the Chicago market and urged that his activity in this case be adopted as a model for all other Illinois officers in putting a halt to this practice.

Only one body was recovered, that of a woman apparently about 40 years of age. Coast Guardmen dragged the lake for several hours seeking the others, believed to be a father and his young son. The body of a man recovered near the scene was at first thought to have been that of one victim but later rescue workers said they believed it was that of a transient who had drowned.

Pomper said the boats collided when the 26-foot cruiser crossed the path of his boat so quickly that he had no chance to swerve it out of danger. The cruiser was rammed amidship and nearly cut in half. Both craft went down immediately but the cruiser was later towed to the Guard station.

Identity Of Victims Of Crash In Lake Unknown Today

Chicago, Aug. 26—(AP)—A double investigation, by police and Coast Guardmen, was underway today into a collision of two watercraft which cost the lives of three World's Fair sightseers.

Both boats, the Miss Chicago, a speedboat which carried ten passengers and its pilot, and the cabin cruiser, the Visitor, with seven aboard, sank after their crash, which occurred last night in Lake Michigan near the mouth of the Chicago River and about 500 feet from a Coast Guard station.

A lookout who saw the accident despatched three Coast Guard boats and ten men who rescued all the Visitor's passengers, and all but four of the speedboat's. Its pilot, Walter Pomper, was dragged to safety by the pilot of another speedboat which hurried to the rescue.

Funeral services will be held at the home of Mrs. Ebersole at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon and at St. John's Lutheran church in Sterling at 2:30, Rev. E. C. Harris, assisted by Rev. A. C. Good officiating, and with burial in the East Science Ridge cemetery north of Sterling.

ARMORED TRUCK HELD UP TODAY IN DENVER, COLO.

$36,000 In Money Is Reported Loot In Daring Robbery

Denver, Aug. 26—(AP)—Two men held up an armored truck this morning and escaped with a sum reported to be $36,000.

The holdup occurred at Eighth and Lawrence streets.

The bandits tossed a tear gas bomb into the car and overcame the guard, driver and a bookkeeper who was in charge of the money. They then dashed off in a stolen automobile, police said.

The money was being taken from the Federal Reserve Bank to the U. S. National Bank.

Richard Borden was driving the car, accompanied by Dalton Brown, a special officer of the reserve bank, and Verne Walker, a bookkeeper. All three were armed.

Pedestrians, several of whom were victims of the gas, told police the robbers were small men, both swarthy, and that they had escaped in a dark sedan.

Police learned that a large truck "double parked" in front of the money car had forced it to stop and gave the bandits an opportunity to stage the holdup.

ENCEPHALITIS MAY PREVENT SCHOOLS' START

St. Louis Epidemic Becomes More Serious Each Day

St. Louis, Aug. 26—(AP)—Several thousand children in the suburban districts of this city may not be able to return to school on schedule this fall because of the serious epidemic of "sleeping sickness" which has taken thirty-one lives in this vicinity in less than a month.

The Metropolitan Health Council of St. Louis last night asked health officers in each community affected by the outbreak to advise whether their schools should open September 5.

Dr. William G. Patton, superintendent of the St. Louis County hospital, was outspoken in his opposition to this plan, insisting the council should go on record as advising all schools to remain closed until the outbreak subsides, or until a more adequate knowledge of the malady is gained by science.

During the last twenty-four hours, three additional deaths were reported, while twenty-five new cases brought the total to 243.

The disease has not been reported from coast to coast. A woman in Jacksonville, Fla., is suffering from encephalitis, while a death in California had been reported. Other deaths have been reported in Kansas, Oklahoma, Iowa and Mississippi.

ONE IS KILLED AS HIS VICTIM CRIES FOR AID

Denver Man Thought Victim Of Mistaken Identity

San Francisco, Aug. 26—(AP)—Freed from a kidnaper who fell dying in a blaze of gun fire after fatally wounding an officer in a crowded public market, William F. Wood, 45, a cousin of the late President William Howard Taft, was under care of physicians today.

Wood, who said he had been held captive four days, tortured and forced to walk the streets in silence while arranging for his own ransom, was reported near collapse.

Bank books, securities and cash aggregating $10,000 which Wood asserted he had been forced to turn over to his abductor, were found in the latter's pockets.

Victim Cried For Help

Wood's release came with dramatic suddenness yesterday in the Market, where his kidnaper had taken him "to buy some walnuts."

Responding to the cry, Patrolman Michael McDonald, 54, received three bullets in his body from the kidnaper's pistol and fell mortally wounded.

The kidnaper, identified as Howard Stafford Meek, 30, alias Henry Jennings, a former ferryboat ticket taker, was shot down by other officers as he fled along a street outside the Market.

Was Abducted Monday

Wood, a retired business man, took refuge in a grocery department of the Market as the shooting started. He was at first taken into custody as a suspected confederate of the slain man, but quickly explained his identity.

He said the kidnaper appeared about 5 P. M. Monday at his home in Sausalito, across the bay from San Francisco.

"We stayed in my house all day Tuesday," Wood added. "He constantly threatened me with that awful gun. He ordered me to write to my banks and tell them to send me my safe deposit box."

"One bank sent me $200. He got that. Then, Wednesday we came to San Francisco."

ABDUCTED WRONG MAN

Denver, Aug. 26—(AP)—Department of Justice agents and police, directing a search through Colorado and Wyoming for Bernard Bitterman, 28-year-old department store executive, believe he was kidnapped by persons who thought him a member of the family of David May, founder of the May Company stores.

Bitterman disappeared Thursday night after a feminine voice informed him over the telephone his brother, Robert, had been injured and taken to the hospital. A similar voice already had telephoned his mother the young man would be working late. He has not been seen by friends or relatives since.

Alfred Triefus, manager of the store and close friend of the Bitterman family, yesterday received a note mailed from Cheyenne, Wyo. "Your nephew is OK," said the note. "You'll hear from us later."

It was signed MRA.

Triefus immediately called Val Zimmer, Department of Justice agent, and William J. Armstrong, detective captain of the Denver police force.

Armstrong predicted sudden death or quick release may be Bitterman's fate after it is learned he is a man of moderate means.

PLOT FRUSTRATED

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 26—(AP)—An unflagging pursuit was maintained today in the investigation which Connecticut authorities said had thwarted a kidnapping plot on the very eve of its execution.

With two men in the Hartford County jail under $25,000 bonds each on charges of conspiracy to kidnap, and two others held as material witnesses, the authorities said they sought seven more men.

The gunman fired the first three shots, one hitting Miss Quinn. Then Pappas, ducking behind the counter, opened fire. He said the robber clutched at his side as he wounded, then dashed out the door with his confederate.

IN THE KNITTED MODE FOR FALL

Knitted suits are to be popular this fall. Irene Bentley wears a particularly chic one in marine blue and white stripes with wide, white lapels that lend a flattering note.

Her jersey beret, suede purse and kid shoes are navy blue, matching the buttons on the coat.

Salad of Grape-fruit, Cream Cheese

Fresh grapefruit mixed with cottage cheese makes a delicious hot weather salad.

Peel the fruit and remove the skin and pulp from the individual sections. This is one time when you do not have to be careful about breaking the sections into little pieces.

Mix the grapefruit, meat lightly with cottage cheese and serve, ice cold, on a bed of lettuce.

This makes a handsome salad for individual portions, particularly if you top each plate with a whole section of grapefruit and one red cherry.

Serve French dressing in a bowl and let each person help himself at the table.

Importance of Sandwiches

The picnic composed of sandwiches, fruit and a drink is the easiest meal to plan. The sandwiches do duty for the "main dish" and must be high in food value and easy to digest.

A menu which is a bit more elaborate adds a salad to the sandwiches and little cakes or cookies to the fruit. Here again the sandwiches may be the chief source of protein, although a meat or fish salad may be chosen and vegetable sandwiches provided. If hearty sandwiches are planned, then the salad should furnish bulk, mineral constituents and vitamins as well as adding piquancy and interest to the meal. Always choose a salad which carries well for unless the dish is attractive it's a doubtful addition to the repast.

Carrying Hot Dishes

The picnic planned to take the place of dinner at home adds a hot dish to the salad and sandwich menu. The hot dish might well be a "one-piece" concoction which combines vegetables and meat. Macaroni or rice combination dishes are also suitable. Scalloped tomatoes with bacon, scalloped cauliflower in cheese sauce, combinations of vegetables with meat cooked in a casserole, stuffed baked veg-

Average Citizen Conscious of Relationship Says Mrs. M. A. Pollak

With the specific recognition of the interests of the consumer in the set-up of the National Recovery Act, the average citizen is becoming conscious as never before of the relation between governmental regulation and his own pocket book.

In line with this general trend is material now being assembled by the Illinois League of Women Voters for use in its Living Costs Department, of which Mrs. Maurice A. Pollak of Highland Park is chairman.

"The purpose of the Department," says Mrs. Pollak, "is to study the relation of government to living costs with a view to finding out how we as voters can reduce these costs, or secure for ourselves better service at the same costs, through government action. We are interested in the whole complex relationship between the government and consumers and what the government is doing to reduce prices and improve the quality of goods for the consumer."

In a letter just being sent out to her department chairman, Mrs. Pollak calls special attention to the necessity for close study of the tariff and includes a study outline which emphasizes the part the tariff plays in the struggle for income; and the effect the tariff has on the consumer, as well as the part the voter can play in tariff-making. Supporting the study outline is a pamphlet by Idella Gwatkin Swisher, published by the League. "An Introduction to a Study of the Tariff," and a list of articles on the tariff which have appeared in various periodicals during the past year.

In closing her letter, Mrs. Pollak says: "The League must constantly be on the watch to see that economy programs in our national, state or local governments do not seriously impair the essential services of the departments and bureaus in our government which tend to reduce living costs and keep up the standard of goods and services we buy. The Federal Trade Commission, Bureau of Home Economics, Department of Commerce, are all carrying on work in behalf of the consumer, to see that standards are kept up. If trade is practiced, and our food is pure."

Carry Hot Dish On Your Picnic

Too often picnic menus are planned in a haphazard fashion with an unbalanced meal as the result. If these careless meals are repeatedly made, much damage can be done to the digestion.

Unfortunately, it's the children who are the chief sufferers at picnics because their needs are seldom considered. The same principles of nutrition must be kept in mind whether a family dinner is being planned or luncheon is being selected from a menu card in a restaurant.

The picnic composed of sandwiches, fruit and a drink is the easiest meal to plan. The sandwiches do duty for the "main dish" and must be high in food value and easy to digest.

A menu which is a bit more elaborate adds a salad to the sandwiches and little cakes or cookies to the fruit. Here again the sandwiches may be the chief source of protein, although a meat or fish salad may be chosen and vegetable sandwiches provided. If hearty sandwiches are planned, then the salad should furnish bulk, mineral constituents and vitamins as well as adding piquancy and interest to the meal. Always choose a salad which carries well for unless the dish is attractive it's a doubtful addition to the repast.

Carrying Hot Dishes

The picnic planned to take the place of dinner at home adds a hot dish to the salad and sandwich menu. The hot dish might well be a "one-piece" concoction which combines vegetables and meat. Macaroni or rice combination dishes are also suitable. Scalloped tomatoes with bacon, scalloped cauliflower in cheese sauce, combinations of vegetables with meat cooked in a casserole, stuffed baked veg-

Sally Eilers

DO you wonder what's become of Sally—meaning, in this case, Sally Eilers, the movie star? Well, here she is as she appears both on and off the screen. etables—the dishes are legion that are acceptable for such a meal. These are satisfactorily carried in the dish in which they were baked and can be kept hot several hours if wrapped in many thicknesses of newspaper if one of the wide mouthed vacuum jugs is not available.

Sometimes it seems advisable to carry the salad ingredients in separate containers and combine them when ready to serve. A closely covered tin pail keeps lettuce deliciously crisp. The dressing can be carried in a glass jar and the other materials packed in paper containers which can be destroyed when empty.

If you can carry a watermelon, it makes a refreshing dessert and acts as a thirst quencher as well. Ice cream packed in a vacuum freezer at home or commercially, packed in "dry" ice always is popular for dessert at a picnic.

Helpful Hints For Housewives

HERE'S A LAUNDRY TRICK FOR SHORT PUFF SLEEVES

One way to simplify laundering of short puffed sleeves is to put snaps on the elastic that holds them. Remove the elastic while washing and ironing the frocks and then snap it back in place when it is to be worn.

'BRAIN FOOD' OR NOT, FISH GOOD FOR BODY

Fish may not be "brain food," as the saying goes, but federal food experts say it is excellent for the body as it is rich in proteins, furnishes phosphorus and iodine and—in the case of the fat kinds—vitamins A and D.

Discard the old notion that fish and milk are not good together, they advise. One of the best ways to prepare fish steaks is to bake them in milk.

MEAT SUBSTITUTES

When a low budget means less meat for the family, use more beans and peas, advises the bureau of home economics. They have a protein content more nearly like that in lean meat, milk and cheese than other vegetables. If there is no meat for dinner, baked beans, bean soup or plain boiled beans will help to fill the gap.

Smoothing Wrinkled Velvet

If your velvet evening dress has become crushed or mussed, hold the wrinkled part over a basin of very hot water with the lining side next to the water. This treatment will make the velvet even and smooth.

Scissors Handy in Kitchen

A pair of scissors is best for cutting up lettuce so that it is very fine, halving marshmallows, dicing celery or cutting up raisins for the batch of cookies.

For Obstinate Windows

If you are having trouble making your windows go up or down, here's a trick that may help. Rub paraffin on the sash cords and they'll probably work easier.

Jelly-Making Time

If you're making fruit jelly and have difficulty in keeping the fruit from gathering in one spot remember that if you will put the fruit in the jelly just before it hardens it will be properly distributed. And never use fresh pineapple in fruit jelly.

Housekeeping Tips

Fresh orange juice poured over diced fruits or melon balls make a delicious summer cocktail.

If you dip a tomato in very hot water or place it on a fork and hold it over a gas flame, you will have no difficulty in removing the skin.

An attractive salad for a party can be made by mixing grape juice in cream cheese and dotting the fruit or lettuce with these little balls of festive looking cheese.

Sweetening Frozen Desserts

A mixture of sugar and water boiled together makes a good syrup for sweetening frozen desserts. But always remember that too sweet a mixture will not freeze.

A FORGOTTEN HERO OF "THE LOST CAUSE."

In a field flanking the Emmitsburg road, on the battlefield of Gettysburg, a Conservation Corps worker the other day saw a bone protruding from the soil. He notified the authorities and the ground was dug up.

There, just beneath the surface, lay the skeleton of a man. With it were buckles, buttons and insignia of the Confederate army—and a lot of bullets.

The field in which the discovery was made is part of a farm. It has been plowed almost every year since the battle took place. And all of that time this forgotten Confederate soldier lay there where his mates had buried him, sleeping in peace a few inches beneath the white frosts of winter and the rippling yellow wheat of summer.

There is a natural poetry in the working of chance, sometimes, and it would be hard to find a better example of it than this.

There is something so peculiarly fitting, so especially right, about this soldier's resting place. To pass from the unendurable turmoil and torture of battle to the infinite peace of a sun-swept wheat field, with the rustle of growing things and the ripple of wind to replace the crash of guns and the yells of desperate men—is not that a fate any soldier might envy?

And in this transmutation there is a summing-up of the outcome of all wars in all times and places. The armies come, they trample and stain the soil and fill the world's cup of misery to overflowing; and then, at last, the tide ebbs again, and the wide earth goes back to its business of growing things, and the bodies of the forgotten dead are reclaimed by the living soil.

Most of their graves are laid out formally in rows, with headstones and crosses to mark their place; but a few, on every battlefield, are quietly hidden away, to drowse out their peaceful eternity in close union with the plants which re-enact, each spring, the miracle of resurrection.

OUR MERCHANT MARINE.

A spokesman for American merchant ship owners suggests that this country, spending vast sums to build up its navy, might profitably consider putting some more money into its merchant marine—pointing out that naval men the world over look on their merchant ships as the second line of defense.

"American patronage," he remarks, "is today supporting the auxiliary navies of France, Germany, Italy and England. We pay 85 per cent of the passage money spent on the north Atlantic. We constitute 70 per cent of the travelers and we take 95 per cent of all first-class cabin accommodations. Meanwhile every one of these great foreign liners which we support was built with an eye to quick conversion into a ship of war. . . . Most of them could sail as fully equipped armed cruisers within five or six days of the outbreak of hostilities."

One hardly needs to be a jingo to admit that this situation does provide a little food for thought.

USELESS ARMY POSTS.

For decades the federal government has made futile attempts to cut down the number of its army posts. It supports some 350 military reservations in all parts of the country, and a vast number of them are of no military value whatever; but every time the War Department tries to close up some of them political pressure has blocked the move.

Now, it is reported, President Roosevelt is going to give the army a new deal. The president hopes that the army can consolidate its posts into a few major establishments. Such a move unquestionably would aid both economy and military efficiency.

Here is a reform that has been on the horizon for a long time but which has never quite come into actual existence. It is to be hoped that it can finally be effected. The army has spent enough time and money on "forts" which it doesn't have any real use for.

A NEW DEAL FOR CUBA.

It would be a great mistake to assume that the worst of Cuba's troubles are over just because Machado has been kicked out.

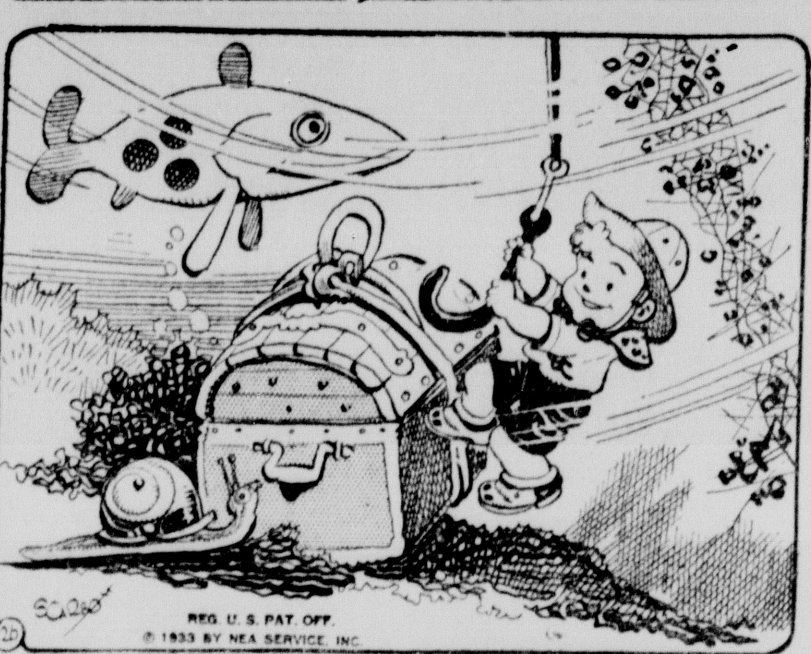

Before Cuba can get permanently on the way to good government and economic health, there must be a pretty extensive readjustment of the relations which exist between that nation and the United States.

Independent in name, Cuba has actually been a protectorate, an economic dependency, of the United States ever since the war with Spain. It is worth remembering that Machado remained in office with Washington's approval; it is also worth remembering that the island's economic life was ruined very largely because of the attitude of certain American business and financial interests.

Our administration is in duty bound to develop a new deal for Cuba; it must find some way in which Cuba's freedom can be a genuine thing and not just an empty word.

The common people produce the producers.—Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick.

The bullhead seemed to want to play. He swam round in a very funny way and dragged the treasure chest along. "Hey, stop it!" Shrimpy cried.

"Against a rock you'll smash the chest. You will stop now, if you know what's best." And then the big fish dropped the chest right down by Shrimpy's side.

"Ah, good old fellow," Scouty said. "That time I think you saved your head. And say, we want to thank you for the fine job you have done."

Then Dotty stroked the fish a bit. The bullhead nearly had a fit. He wigged round so much that Goldy cried, "He's full of fun."

"Come, come," said Duncy "all of you. Right now there is much work to do. I will grab the great big hook the diver dropped into the sea."

"We'll fasten it right to the big chest. The diver then, can do the rest. When he pulls up his treasure, think how happy he will be."

"Now wait! We want things to work right. We'd best be sure the rope is tight." Said Scouty. "If the rope lets go, the monstrous chest will drop."

"It's safer to have many knots. Come on we'll all tie the lots and lots. Gee, as for me, I do not want this job to be a flop."

"A great idea," Windy cried. "I will show you how real knots are tied." And shortly, all the Tinymites were working hard and fast.

At last old Shrimpy said, "Oh, my, I do not think we need to tie it any more. The way it's knotted now it is sure to last."

"Now for the hook! Gee, lads, I hope that we can slip it thru' the rope," cried Duncy. Then their first attempt brought forth a merry shout.

"Well, we have done all that we can. Now, signal to the diver man," said Shrimpy. "and, if he is strong, he'll pull the old chest out."

(Duncy takes a ride on the big chest in the next story.)

"Nonsense!" cried Joe. "They think we expect it, otherwise they fear we won't make dates with them. And they would rather die than not have dates. There's the whole thing in a nutshell! Don't be silly!"

"Maybe, but they are nuts just the same," said Jack. "Does any girl, with the mind of a soft-shell crab, imagine that a man wants a woman like that for a wife? Not on your life. If he marries he wants a girl of sense and character, not a feather-headed idiot. No, old chap, it's up to the women to put up the prices, or the men will take it in hand."

"Going on a strike?" Joe asked. "What a sight for gods and little fishes to see you snub 'em!"

"Amusing, is it?" Jack snapped. "Anyway, the whole moral business can be put in three words: Don't be cheap! It don't pay! It don't last."

LIVER SPOTS

Those yellowish-brown spots or plaques which sometimes develop on the skin of the chest and back and are called "liver spots" have nothing to do with the liver.

They are the results of a skin condition caused by a fungus, a plant-like microscopic organism living on the skin.

This disease, technically called pityriasis or sometimes tinea versicolor, is extremely chronic and stubborn. It most commonly involves the skin of the trunk. The yellowish-brown plaques do not rise above the skin, nor are they inflammatory. They are usually covered by fine bran-like scales.

Patients do not complain of any discomfort, but, having been told that they have liver spots, they want their liver treated.

Closely resembling "liver spots" there is another skin disease known as erythrasma, a common skin affection, occasionally attacking women, but most commonly to be seen in men of mature age. This skin condition is usually confined to the folds of the groin, to the upper and internal surfaces of the thigh, occasionally spreading to the armpits.

The skin shows yellow or brownish patches, only slightly elevated above the skin. These lesions, too, are not inflammatory.

Occasionally, however, because of excessive sweating and friction, itch develops, the patient is prompted to scratch and superficial infections may develop.

The treatment of "liver spots" and of erythrasma is both local and constitutional. Ordinarily, such patients do best on a diet which is not too rich in sugars and carbohydrates. It is best also not to eat an excess of meats and protein foods, but to eat vegetables and fruit instead.

Local treatment must, of course, be prescribed by a physician and may include a variety of medications, such as iodine, sulphur, chrysarobin, as well as the agents of physical therapy, such as ultraviolet and X-ray.

DON'T BE CHEAP!

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton
"It's cheap," said Jack, in a tone one could not help overhearing, just dirt cheap. I'm sick of it. Talk about inflation! It's time we put up prices on a lot of things besides cotton, corn, potatoes and pigs. It's about time we pegged things a bit, believe me."

"Well, what's so cheap and sickening," asked Joe, more amused than alarmed. "What's all the fuss about anyway? Why get so hot up? Some girl turned you down. I guess. Or maybe she didn't turn you down, and that's what is eating your insides. Eh? Spit it out!"

"It's eating me all right," Jack admitted. "It's this petting racket. It's disgusting. I'm no pious prig, but I believe the most important thing in love—as well as life—is not to be cheap. It makes a fellow cynical, if you know what I mean—like

Fair Weather

Standing with majestic grandeur opposite the Twenty-third street entrance in the geographical center of A Century of Progress—the Chicago World's Fair—the Havoline thermometer tower is one of the most popular rendezvous of the Fair. Located on a grassy eminence overlooking the lagoon, it is a logical meeting place for Fair visitors. In addition to these meetings, scores of telephone calls are received at the tower daily from persons seeking friends.

RODNEY WRIGHT, DEKALB DOCTOR, DEAD IN SOUTH

Brother of Senator, Well Known Here, Is Summoned

Dr. Rodney Wright, aged 46 years, of DeKalb, passed away Thursday afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock at Prescott, Ariz. Death was caused by a lung infection. The funeral services will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock at Ellis Grove, Ill., which is between 50 and 60 miles south and east of St. Louis. Burial will be at that place.

Dr. Wright was born and raised at Ellis Grove, and in 1914 went to DeKalb as a practicing physician. He was prominent in civic and social matters, having served for three years as president of the Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the Community Chest drives for two years. He was an ex-president of the Kishwaukee Country Club, past exalted ruler of the Elks and was active in the Rotary club, and Masonic lodges.

He was taken ill on Sunday following Thanksgiving while visiting in Chicago and was removed to the Illinois Masonic Memorial hospital. The latter part of December, he was removed to the DeKalb hospital where he improved sufficiently to allow him to take an automobile trip to Arizona with his brother, Senator, H. G. Wright in March of this year. He remained at Tucson for a time and later went to Phoenix. When it became too hot he went to Prescott which is much cooler and remained in that place until his death.

During his residence in DeKalb, he worked up a large practice and was considered one of the leading physicians of that community. He visited in Dixon on numerous occasions and had many friends here who will be sorry to learn of his death.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Rodney, Jr., and daughter, Betty, three brothers, Senator H. G. Wright, of DeKalb, T. P. Wright of Chicago, and Harold Bell Wright of Arizona, and three sisters, Miss Pansy Wright of Chicago, Mrs. Mabel Hornberger of Chester, Ill., and Mrs. Daisy Brown of Waterloo, Ia.

GIANTS CRUSHED PIRATES TWICE; INCREASED LEAD

Yankees Slipped Further Behind Pace Setting Senators

By ORLO ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Back in the midst of the fray after being shut out four straight days by Jupiter Phivus, the New York Giants have demonstrated they can manufacture a winning streak of their own to match the onrush of the Boston Braves.

Meeting the Pittsburgh Pirates in the first of the numerous double-headers which many experts have predicted will prove their downfall, the Giants twice turned back the Corsairs yesterday. They won the opening contest 8 to 5 as Manager Bill Terry cracked out a home run with two mates on base in the eleventh, and then behind the effective pitching of LeRoy Parnelle crushed the Pirates 6 to 2 in the second game.

The double victory ran the Giants' winning streak to seven games and increased their margin over the idle Braves to seven games.

Homers Feature
Freddie Lindstrom, finding the range in his old stamping grounds, clouted the homers in the first game but Mel Ott's 18th homer and Terry's 11th inning swat proved more effective. In the nightcap, the Giants jumped in an early lead when Ott hit his 19th homer and Johnny Vergez added another in the second inning. The double feat dropped Pittsburgh into fifth place.

The Chicago Cubs strengthened their hold on third place by dividing a doubleheader with the Phillies. Philadelphia took the first game 8 to 7 in ten innings. The Cubs squared matters, however, with a 6-hit attack behind Lon Warneke in the nightcap, winning 7 to 4.

The Brooklyn Dodgers conquered the Cincinnati Reds twice by 4-3 scores as Hack Wilson made his major league debut at second base due to injuries to Brooklyn infielders. The Dodgers got only two hits off Silas Johnson in the second game but they were a home run by Wilson and a triple by Danny Taylor and proved sufficient, with the help of two passes and an error, to win.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington — Jim Couzens of Michigan is just about as caustic, outspoken and hard-boiled an individual as anyone ever encountered when something comes up that displeases him.

He'll fight at the drop of a hat anybody or anything and usually a good-sized scrap has taken place before he gets through.

But there's one particular thing that will rile the gray-haired Senator perhaps more quickly than any other. And that is for someone to do anything that he thinks will harm unfortunate or under-privileged children.

Such little chaps have been Couzens' hobby for years. He has given liberally of his millions that they might have a chance to win back their health and happiness.

That's one of the reasons he became so infuriated on the witness stand the other day in Detroit, where he was testifying in regard to banking practices in that city prior to the state bank holiday.

For The Youngsters

Back in 1929 Couzens established a $10,000,000 trust fund which, with its income, estimated to amount to $7,500,000 additional, was to be spent in full within 25 years to promote the health and happiness of the children of Michigan and elsewhere.

There's an interesting story told as to how the Senator came to establish this fund.

Couzens got into a terrific row with Andrew W. Mellon when the latter was Secretary of the Treasury over the collection of additional taxes from him and other minority stockholders of the Ford Motor company.

The senator previously had aroused the ire of "Uncle Andy" by demanding a senatorial investigation of the internal revenue bureau.

It is said that Couzens, during this fight over the tax collection, made the promise that if he won out he would give the entire amount to charity.

He did win. Had he lost he would have had to pay 1 1/2% government $9,455,303.16 plus the interest. The trust fund was set up in 1929, less than a year after this victory.

Hitting A Sore Spot

On the witness stand in Detroit the other day he charged that a bank there had "jockeyed the children's fund of Michigan out of $200,000" by selling the fund "participation certificates" based on real estate mortgages and pleading a temporary stringency of funds when payment became due. The fund management was asked to take "certificates of deposit" instead.

The bank closed before all the certificates were cashed.

Couzens is now demanding that the prosecuting attorney investigate with a view to possible criminal proceedings.
